DETAILED ACTION

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

1. The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(b) the invention was patented or described in a printed publication in this or a foreign country or in public use or on sale in this country, more than one year prior to the date of application for patent in the United States.

(e) the invention was described in (1) an application for patent, published under section 122(b), by another filed in the United States before the invention by the applicant for patent or (2) a patent granted on an application for patent by another filed in the United States before the invention by the applicant for patent, except that an international application filed under the treaty defined in section 351(a) shall have the effects for purposes of this subsection of an application filed in the United States only if the international application designated the United States and was published under Article 21(2) of such treaty in the English language.

2. Claims 1, 2, 4 and 5 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(e) as being clearly anticipated by Patent Application Publication No. 2005/0126941 to Ferri et al.

See Fig. 4.

As a note, the region of the Ferri et al. package that is torn (via cuts 123) to access the contents is considered to be the mouth of the package. Furthermore, the interruption of seals 23 in the continuous tube surrounding chamber portion 12 meets the recitation “the radiation cured adhesive forms a discontinuous layer”.

3. Claims 1, 2, 4 and 22 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as being clearly anticipated by U.S. Patent No. 6,276,532 to Sperry et al.

Regarding claim 22, applicant's nomenclature for first and second layflat side edges and bottom edge layflat fold does not distinguish applicant's claims from the Sperry et al. package, which discloses forming the first and second panels from one sheet of material folded over upon itself.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

4. The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

5. Claim 3 is rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Ferri et al. or Sperry et al.

Ferri et al. or Sperry et al. each disclose the claimed invention except for the average thickness of the radiation cured adhesive being 0.1 to 0.12 micrometers. It would have been an obvious matter of design choice to apply the radiation cured adhesive of Ferri et al. or Sperry et al. with an average thickness of 0.1 to 0.12 micrometers, since such a modification would have involved a mere change in the size of a component. A change in size is generally recognized as being within the level of ordinary skill in the art. Applicant's specification discloses the claimed average thickness of the radiation cured adhesive as being "useful", but lacks evidence that the claimed average thickness is critical and provides an unexpected result.

6. Claim 21 is rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Sperry et al. and U.S. patent No 6,383,537 to Brady et al.

Sperry et al. discloses the claimed invention except that Sperry et al. discloses forming the first and second panels from one sheet of material folded over upon itself instead of a flattened tube of material closed at its open end. Brady et al. shows that forming from first and second panels from a flattened tube of material closed at an open end is an equivalent structure known in the art. Therefore, because these two panel forming methods were art-recognized equivalents at the time the invention was made, one of ordinary skill in the art would have found it obvious to substitute forming first and second panels from one sheet of material folded over upon itself for forming from first and second panels from a flattened tube of material closed at an open end.

Response to Arguments

7. Applicant's arguments with respect to claims 1-5, 21 and 22 have been considered but are moot in view of the new ground(s) of rejection.

Conclusion

8. Applicant's amendment necessitated the new ground(s) of rejection presented in this Office action. Accordingly, THIS ACTION IS MADE FINAL. See MPEP § 706.07(a). Applicant is reminded of the extension of time policy as set forth in 37 CFR 1.136(a).

A shortened statutory period for reply to this final action is set to expire THREE MONTHS from the mailing date of this action. In the event a first reply is filed within TWO MONTHS of the mailing date of this final action and the advisory action is not mailed until after the end of the THREE-MONTH shortened statutory period, then the shortened statutory period will expire on the date the advisory action is mailed, and any extension fee pursuant to 37 CFR 1.136(a) will be calculated from the mailing date of the advisory action. In no event, however, will the statutory period for reply expire later than SIX MONTHS from the date of this final action.

Applicant is duly reminded that a complete response must satisfy the requirements of 37 C.F. R. 1.111, including: "The reply must present arguments pointing out the specific distinctions believed to render the claims, including any newly presented claims, patentable over any applied references. A general allegation that the claims "define a patentable invention" without specifically pointing out how the language of the claims patentably distinguishes them from the references does not comply with the requirements of this section. Moreover, "The prompt development of a clear Issue requires that the replies of the applicant meet the objections to and rejections of the claims." Applicant should also specifically point out the support for any amendments made to the disclosure. See MPEP 2163.06 II(A), MPEP 2163.06 and MPEP 714.02. The "disclosure" includes the claims, the specification and the drawings.
